ONLY ONE

Great Popularity Contest, and That's the Kentucky Irish American.

Other Papers May Follow, But the Trip to St. Louis is the Thing.

So Say All Our Young Lady Readers, Married Couples and Single Men.

ARE OUT HUSTLING FOR VOTES

Interest in the great popularity contest of the Kentucky Irish American during the past week was greater by far than at any time since the contest commenced. This paper led the way as to local contests of this kind, and now comes one of the leading daily local newspapers following suit, and has inaugurated a popularity contest for young ladies. Let the other contests come and go as they will, the one started by this paper is now attracting the most attention in Louisville. The friends of the paper are partial enough to say that before the close on July 6 the vote will be the heaviest ever cast in this city in a similar scheme. While some of the candidates at the beginning felt flattered in having their friends cast as many as 2,000 votes for them, now that they have become interested they say they will not be content until at least 15,000 or 20,000 votes are given to them.

Some of the candidates have been too modest to solicit votes for themselves until now, but seeing that it is not altogether fair to ask their friends to do all the work, they have started out to do something for themselves. It is an easy matter to get ten or twenty new subscribers for the Kentucky Irish American in a day if one tries, and this amount to several hundred votes for any candidate. Candidates should have no hesitancy in asking their friends to vote for them. Mayors of cities, Governors of States and even Presidents have asked people to vote for them and did not consider it undignified to do so.

The time is now short for carrying on the work of bringing the contest to a final issue between the several estimable persons who have been entered. There are thirty-six persons on the list, thirteen married couples, eleven single ladies and twelve single gentlemen. Men are greater hustlers than women, for votes at least, by reason of long training in that line of work, and the single men have received the largest vote up to this date. However, it does not follow that the eleven single ladies will allow this to continue to the end. Each one of the young ladies could no doubt go out and get two or three thousand votes in a day for the asking among their friends, and there is nothing to prevent them from doing so. The contest between Miss Marie Riley and Miss Ella O'Connell is now very close, but there are said to be some surprises in store for the leaders. The friends of the Misses Mary Foley, Margaret Norton and Alice Walsh, who have been in the 2,000 column for some time, say that they intend to bring the votes up to five figures before the contest closes, meaning that the young lady getting the prize must have at least 10,000 votes to win.

Wouldn't it be still more surprising if some one of the six last-named young ladies on the list, who have only been credited so far with less than 2,000 votes each, should step in at the close and carry off the prize? This element of uncertainty adds zest to the contest and makes the close more exciting.

It is hardly necessary to speak for the single gentlemen. They will do the talking for themselves during the next twenty-five days. The leaders, Tom Fitzgibbon and Frank McDonogh, are closely bunched. Since Mr. McDonogh's return home from the East his friends have been hustling for him, and this week has been very effective. The other candidates are also coming up handsomely in the single gentlemen's list. The friends of Edward Dalton say he could win if he went after it in earnest.

Some time ago in mentioning the contests between the married couples it was suggested that popular Michael Reichert, who is the only German in the list, might win if his German friends took a notion to vote for him. It may be mentioned confidentially that a friend of Mr. Reichert, who lives in Chicago, sent in twelve subscriptions in one bunch to be credited to him. If all the German friends of Mr. Reichert and his estimable wife in South Louisville alone would do likewise where would the Irish contestants be? They certainly would not be inside the money, as the racing people say, at the close of the contest. The friends of the others, however, are not asleep, as will be seen from consulting the official vote cast up to this date.

It is proper to say that there will be no padding of votes. Each and every voter will be given his correct number of ballots, and no more. The person who sends in but one ballot out from the paper will have it credited to his favorite just as readily and impartially as those who send in the names of ten or more subscribers.

The Kentucky Irish American is conceded to be a good family newspaper and the price of subscription is small. Now is the time to subscribe or to renew your old subscription and at the same time help one of the popular persons mentioned below to go to St. Louis to see the great Exposition free of cost.

AWFUL DEATH

Engineer John Scanlon Killed In Southern Railroad Collision.

John B. Scanlon, one of the best known and most reliable engineers on the Southern railway, lost his life in an awful wreck that occurred Saturday morning near Harrodsburg. The fast local freight, due in Louisville in the afternoon, was in charge of Conductor Nicholson and Engineer Scanlon. When the freight passed Burgin the crew were signaled to go ahead, and after leaving that station they came at a fast rate, arriving at Harrodsburg on time. A work train and engine had left the switch there and was proceeding east, and was first seen by Engineer Scanlon, who stood to his post and lost his life in a brave effort to avoid the collision. Despite his efforts the two engines came together with a terrible crash, resulting in the death of Scanlon and a negro and the injury of seven other men, one of whom was Fireman J. Welch, of 2531 Griffith avenue, whose arm was broken and his back badly injured. When the brave engineer saw there was no hope he endeavored to jump from the cab, but was caught between the engine and tender and crushed to death.

Engineer Scanlon was the son of Daniel Scanlon, President of the Scanlon Coal Company, and had been in the employ of the Southern railway for the past three years. His record was a splendid one and he enjoyed the confidence of the officials of the road and his fellow-workmen. When the sad tidings reached this city the bereaved father at once left for the scene of the disaster and returned with the remains of his son, which were taken to the family residence, 613 West Kentucky street. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from St. Louis Bernard's, a large concourse of mourning friends following the remains to St. Louis cemetery. The entire community was shocked by the news, and everywhere there were expressions of sympathy for the parents and relatives of the deceased, who was but thirty-two years old. With them we unite our prayers for his eternal repose.

HOME COMING WEEK

Elaborate Plans Being Made by the New Albany Commercial Club.

"Home coming week" is being worked up by the Commercial Club of New Albany, which is sending out invitations to thousands of former residents to visit their old home from August 8 to 18. The committee in charge intends to send over 10,000 invitations to all parts of the United States and to foreign countries, and the club anticipates an immense gathering of old-time residents. The Knights of Pythias will hold their biennial encampment in Louisville and the New Albany and Jeffersonville Chautauque Association will hold its assembly during the same period, and reduced railroad rates will be afforded those who visit the old home town at that time. The Commercial Club will make an effort to increase its membership at least 100 during the next week, and the membership fees will be used in defraying the expenses of sending out the invitations.

MAHER ACTING CHIEF.

Capt. Thomas Maher has been acting Chief of Detectives this week, Chief William Sullivan having left Monday for the World's Fair, where the annual convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs was held. During his stay in the Mount City Chief Sullivan met many former Kentuckians, who showed him a good time.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Twentieth Annual Session Brought to Louisville Representative Catholic Gentlemen from Every State and Territory in the Union.

Were Delightfully Entertained and Went Away With Many Expressions of Praise and Thanks for Kentucky Hospitality.

The Knights of Columbus completely captured Louisville for four days this week. The meeting of the national officers and national delegates attracted more attention than any similar gathering ever held here. Considering the fact that there were but a few more than 150 delegates here (but representing 114,000 Knights), the attention paid to the meeting by the press and the general public was a most gratifying feature of the session. The Grand Army and the Knights Templar have held national conventions in Louisville, and of course had much larger crowds, but no finer body of men ever assembled in Louisville and went away leaving a better impression. The reception given to the Supreme Knight, the national officers, the delegates and their wives was cordial without being effusive. In going away every visitor declared in favor of coming back to old Kentucky again and partaking some more of her hospitality.

To Louisville Council belongs the credit of showing the people of Louisville who are not of the Catholic faith what a great charitable body of laymen the church has in the Knights of Columbus. To each and every member of the local council credit is due, for none neglected his part. The leading members of other fraternal bodies, such as the A. O. U. E. Y. M. I. C. K. of A. and others paid their respects to the visitors, as did Catholics generally. The meeting will result in great good for all the Catholic organizations.

The Kentucky Irish American wishes to congratulate the Knights of Columbus locally and generally and to express the wish that the order may continue to flourish in the future as it has during the past year. It would require every column of space in this paper to give even minor details of all the proceedings, the receptions, banquets, etc., and our readers will have to be content with a condensed report. The Knights began to arrive on Monday. They were met at the trains by delegates from Louisville Council and escorted to the Galt House where an informal reception was held on Monday afternoon, all the local members of the order and many prominent Catholics calling to pay their respects.

On Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, when the first business session was called to order by Supreme Knight Edward L. Hearn, every council was represented. Previous to the calling of the convention the great lobby of the Galt House, one of the largest in the country, was filled with visitors. Proceeding to the great dining room promptly on the hour delegates, after being rapped to order by the Supreme Knight, listened to a hearty address of welcome from his Honor the Mayor. Mayor Grainger said he esteemed it a great honor and pleasure to extend the freedom of the city to such a fine body of gentlemen. Their every appearance indicated that they were gentlemen all. The Mayor said he knew well the class of men that made up Louisville Council, and if all the delegates were like these then they must be good citizens and patriotic ones. In conclusion the Mayor said he would turn the keys of the city over to Supreme Knight Hearn, and Louisville belonged to the Knights of Columbus as long as they should remain within its limits.

Supreme Knight Hearn made a felicitous response, saying that he and his associates appreciated the cordial and hearty welcome given to them by the Chief Executive of the metropolis of Kentucky. They would strive to show during their stay in the city that they were worthy of at least some of the good things said of them. They all felt that they would be treated handsomely during their stay.

After the departure of the Mayor and visitors the convention went into executive session, and the credentials having been verified, the first business was the reading of the reports of the officers. The first important report was that of Supreme Knight Hearn, which went into details of the condition of the order at the present time, an estimate of its future success and prosperity and a brief review of its past. Incidentally the Supreme Knight spoke of the chair of American history which the order had founded in the Catholic University in Washington City, which has heretofore been referred to in these columns. The Supreme Knight suggested that those councils which did not give to the fund for the establishment of the chair which have been taken into the order since the chair was established raise a subscription for the equipment of a library to go with the department of American history. He reviewed the establishment of the fraternity paper, the Columbian, and tells of its success. He described the plan for erecting the new building in New Haven, and expressed the hope that the next annual meeting may be held within its walls.

The Supreme Knight controverted with great energy the statement that the present expenditures of the order, were out of reason. Comparing the per capita assessment with the twenty-five fraternal insurance orders, he showed that only two have a smaller per capita tax than the Knights of Columbus. In 1899, with a total membership of 42,770, the total expenditure was $13,374.04, while in the past year, with a membership of 114,000, the expenditure has been only $73,041.59. Two hundred and twenty-seven members holding insurance policies have died during the past year and the benefits paid have amounted to $243,750.

In speaking of the growth of the order the Supreme Knight grew eloquent. "We may look back upon the year 1903 with feelings of pride and satisfaction, and yet what may we not look forward to for the present year and the years to come? Since January 1, 1904, sixty councils have been instituted, an average of twelve councils per month, which if maintained for the entire year will furnish a growth that will completely dwarf our progress in former years. Our net increase in insurance members for the first five months of 1904 has been about 3,000, almost as large as the entire net gain in that department for the entire year of 1903. During the same period of the present year our associate membership has experienced a gain of about 8,000, making our total membership on June 1, 1904, more than 114,000, and the 120,000 mark will have been passed before the expiration of the year.

"Since January 1, 1904, new councils have been instituted in Arizona, Arkansas and Idaho, and State councils have been established in Texas, Washington and Alabama. The Dominion of Canada has been divided into separate jurisdictions, to-wit: the Province of Quebec, which has a State council; the Province of Ontario, in which the Territorial Deputy informs me a State council will be convened July 1, and the Maritime Provinces. Applications for the institution of councils in Western Ontario, Manitoba and British Columbia are already in the hands of the Committee on Charters. The same is true of the Philippines, Porto Rico and Mexico, and a committee of the board has devoted considerable time and study during the past year to the consideration of the extension of the order into those countries. Following the institution of the first council in the Maritime Provinces, at Charlottetown, P. E. I., have come repeated requests for the institution of councils in other cities throughout those provinces. A very busy and prosperous year seems to await us, and all signs indicate that our record of 105 councils instituted during 1903 will be surpassed in 1904."

The detailed report of the Supreme Knight would cover about four columns of space and this is but an outline.

The report of National Secretary Daniel Colwell was very concise, covering only thirteen pages of printed matter. This report gave a lot of valuable information about the order. During the year 1903 there were instituted 105 councils, an average of about two councils a week, and the K. of C. now has representation in every State and Territory except Nevada and Alaska, and in addition has flourishing councils in Quebec and Ontario, in Canada. The total membership as shown by the Secretary's report is 114,102. Interesting comments made by Secretary Colwell follow:

"An examination of our financial condition will disclose the pleasing fact that our order stands at the head of all American fraternal insurance societies, our per capita surplus being almost $29. The mortality for the year has been favorably low, a ratio of 6.3 per 1,000 having been maintained. All claims against the order have been met and paid with promptness. The gain in our insured membership was larger than we had looked for, and this may be accounted for through our official journal, the Columbian, and through the restored confidence in the system of insurance now in operation. All recognize that the present table of rates is a settled question, every member, old and young, accepting them as just, equitable and permanent. Our associate membership, too, has advanced with undiminished strides, and we can muster today more than 114,000 members in both classes.

"When we consider the disturbed conditions that have prevailed in fraternal circles for the past year, in consequence of the attempt on the part of several of the order to adopt adequate rates of assessment, and the attendant severe losses experienced by some, the Knights of Columbus, as the vanguard organization in this particular, may take pardonable pride in the fact that our efforts have been adjudged sound and conservative, and are being emulated; our stability is confessed by all, and with a few necessary amendments to the laws, which experience shows are faulty in some places, we may look for a grand triumph all along the line in the year before us."

The very full report of T. J. Brady, the National Treasurer, showing the financial standing of the order, was also read at the first day's session. The report was very voluminous, embracing thirty-five pages of closely printed matter. The report not only gave the receipts and expenditures, but itemized details, showing the condition of the funds on January 1, 1904. On January 1, 1903, the balance on hand was $258,787.06, and the receipts of the year amounted to $555,234.50, making a total of $814,021.56. There was expended during the year $632,651.97, leaving a cash balance December 31, 1903, at the close of the accounts of $181,369.64. The increase in receipts for the year 1903 amounted to $38,220 more than in 1902.

The National Board of Directors fully approved the report of the Building Committee, of which Mr. Pendergast, of Boston, is Chairman. It was decided to accept the plans of John L. Paxton for the building, which is to cost $200,000. It will be located at 954-956 Chapel street, New Haven, Conn. The lot on which the building is to be erected cost $50,000. The officers of the National Council will be located in this building, which will be completed within a year.

The convention voted down a resolution to change the rules so that each State would have representation according to its numerical strength. The resolution was offered by the New York delegation and was debated for over two hours Tuesday afternoon. Under the present laws no State can have more than eight elective delegates. Each State is allowed to send the present State Deputy and the last Past Deputy. The elective delegates are admitted as follows: One for the first 2,000 insurance members; one for each additional 2,000 insurance members, and one for each additional 2,000 associate members until the number reaches eight. The New York resolution would have given each State one delegate for each 2,000 insurance members and one delegate for each 2,000 associate members, with no limit.

In regard to changing the present laws Secretary Colwell said in this connection: "We now have the constitution and laws in such shape that we hope that they will not have to be changed again for a number of years. The changes were of minor importance, and will apply only to matters of routine. Our experience of the past year showed that they were necessary."

Although the delegates had many opportunities for pleasure on Tuesday and Wednesday they continued at work until every item of business had been disposed of. They would not accept hospitality during business hours.

The business session of the National Council did not conclude until after 6 o'clock on Wednesday evening. It would be impossible to detail here all the happenings in the convention. Suffice it to say the amendments to the by-laws and other details were completed without friction. It was decided on Wednesday evening, after a long discussion, to hold the next regular meeting in June, 1905, at Los Angeles. Detroit, Milwaukee and New Haven were anxious to secure the meeting, but Los Angeles won through the eloquence of Joseph Scott, the only delegate from California, who made a great plea for the City of Angels and won.

The following new Trustees were selected to fill vacancies caused by expiration of regular terms: P. J. McNulty, Pittsburgh; Matthew J. Cummings, Providence, R. I.; William J. McCullough, Davenport, Iowa, and F. D. Thorne, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Before adjourning the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the twentieth annual National Council of the Knights of Columbus, held at Louisville on June 7 and 8, 1904—the first National Council in regular session held in any city other than that which gave the order birth—extend their sincere thanks to its brethren of Louisville Council, No. 390, for their hospitality and courtesy. The far famed hospitality of Kentucky has been an anticipation. Today it is a realization, the memory of which will never fade, and the Board of Directors, on behalf of the National Council, are hereby directed to present to Louisville Council a suitably engrossed copy of this expression of our appreciation.

The concluding social feature of the convention was a grand banquet at the Galt House on Wednesday night. Covers were laid for nearly three hundred. Many ladies were present. The occasion was a most enjoyable one for the members of Louisville Council as well as for the visitors. Mr. James J. Fitzgerald, a leading member of the local council, was toastmaster, and he performed his part to perfection, as usual. The principal address, which was listened to with wrapt attention, was from the eloquent Edward J. McDermott, whose theme was "Looking Forward." Mr. McDermott predicted a great future for the order. He was applauded liberally. The address was a model of eloquence and will be published in the official proceedings. Other toasts were responded to by Supreme Knight Hearn, whose topic was "The Knights of Columbus." John S. Leaby, of St. Louis, spoke on "Our Order's Progress," and Hon. George T. Monahan, of Detroit, on "The Layman's Duties and Opportunities."

On Thursday morning about 100 delegates went to Mammoth Cave on a special train via the L. & N. They were the guests of Louisville Council, which provided every comfort for them. Several of the visiting Knights expressed their appreciation for special courtesies shown them on the trip by John J. Cronen and George Ratterman, of this city. They returned to Louisville at 11 p. m. the same evening. Some of the delegates remained over in Louisville until today, and the balance returned to their homes. Thus ended the twentieth annual convention of the Knights of Columbus, which will long be remembered by the delegates as well as the people of Louisville.

CATHOLIC DOCTORS.

Suggestion That They Form a National Organization.

The call for the formation of such a society in the United States comes from Rome, where a few days ago 300 physicians assembled from all parts of Europe and held a congress. An audience was granted them by Pope Pius X. The rules under which the organization is to be governed are:

First—The Catholic doctors, with the object of establishing a fraternal union among themselves and of renewing the ancient Christian traditions, decide to found a society in each country under the protection of the holy doctors, St. Luke, St. Cosmas and St. Damian.

Second—The objects of the society are (a) the application of the Christian virtues and professional charity in the practice and (b) the study of medical questions with special attention to those regarding faith, moral and deontology. They declare that in this they submit to the decisions of ecclesiastical authority.

Third—Societies will adopt as their patronal feast St. Luke's day.

Fourth—The societies will avoid all political questions.

Fifth—The societies founded in the different countries are to be independent in their different functions, but in order to create among them a fraternal bond of union they may be kept in communication with one another through their respective Presidents.

Sixth—They will aim at holding general reunions, the Presidency of which will be given the Presidents of each society in turn.

Seventh—The general reunions will take place in Rome, the center of Christendom.

Eighth—The doctors of Rome will be charged to correspond with the different societies and to give them all the necessary information on such matters as may call for explanation.

Similar organizations are to be established in Ireland, England, Scotland and Australia. Many prominent Catholic physicians in this country favor the establishment of such an international union and will co-operate.

THREE REASONS

Why Mary Anderson Left the Stage On the Advice of Cardinal Manning.

The Catholic Columbian is responsible for the statement that Mary Anderson left the stage on the advice of Cardinal Manning, who told her that her own conscience pointed out three things:

First—That she herself could hardly keep in the state of grace or cultivate the supernatural life while leading the nocturnal, nomadic and emotional career of an actress.

Second—That other players, not shielded as she was by a company of her own and by decent plays, but cast among all sorts of bohemian associates and compelled to appear in questionable dramas, being far more severely tempted by circumstances, were still less likely than she was to keep themselves free from sin.

Third—That she, being known as a pure and pious woman, was being used as a justification for themselves in remaining exposed to the temptations of a stage life by other players who had neither her force of character nor her opportunities to resist evil or to practice her religion.

To save her own soul therefore from its own weaknesses and from its responsibilities to its neighbors, Mary Anderson accepted marriage and left the stage.

HAVE STRONG TEAM.

The members of Lafayette Council, Y. M. I., of Newport, have organized a strong ball team, and want the Kentucky Irish American to notify all councils in the Kentucky jurisdiction that they are open for challenges, preferably those from Louisville. The players and positions are as follows: Charles Hyland, catcher; Joe Meagher, pitcher; John Meagher, first base; John Huver, second base; James Tuell, third base; H. W. Schmitz, short stop; Gerald Connolly, right field; Thomas Connolly, left field; William Young, center field. Any council accepting this challenge should address W. K. Hughes, manager, Newport, Ky.

FEDERATION

Will Look After Catholic Interests in the Public Library.

The Officers Instructed to Take Steps to Insure State Convention.

Special Organization Committee Commended For Its Work.

MORE NEW DELEGATES ARE SEATED

The regular monthly meeting of the Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies last Friday night at Hilberian Hall was important as well as interesting. President James B. Kelly was in the chair and seventeen organizations responded to the roll call. The meeting was important from the fact that attention was called to the new public library, and the suggestion was made that steps should be taken immediately to secure proper recognition therein for standard Catholic works. It was pointed out that the Catholics of Louisville will pay more for the maintenance of the library than any other denomination, therefore their rights should not be overlooked. The question was discussed for an hour, but it was decided to take no action until after a conference with Dr. John C. Ouchterlony, who is the only Catholic on the Board of Trustees. This move of the Federation deserves commendation and should have the hearty support of the general public. Only such recognition as is given other denominations is sought, and when our numbers is considered there should be no doubt as to the result.

Communications were read from Judge Rives, of Lebanon, asking for information concerning the State convention, which should be held in July. Alderman Fowler, of the National Executive Committee, declared it would be absolutely necessary to hold a State convention to elect delegates to the Detroit convention. President Kelly said the local body had heard nothing from State President Witte, and he was therefore unable to answer the communications that are being received. After some discussion President Kelly and Secretary Conroy were instructed to at once take such steps as would insure the calling of a State convention. An interesting letter was also read from Patrick Holley, explaining his absence.

The special committee appointed to visit organizations made their report, for which they were warmly commended by the delegates present. When it was announced that Messrs. Michael Reichert, Oscar Maier, Joseph Herp, Matthew Schlang and Joseph Landolt were present from Branch 6 of the Catholic Knights of America there was hearty applause, the new delegates being given a most cordial welcome. Mr. Reichert was at once added to the committee which will continue its visits to those bodies not yet represented in the Federation.

Quite an amount of routine business was transacted, and before the adjournment short but interesting talks were made by Michael Reichert, Will J. O'Connor, Dr. Fowler, John Barry and others. An amendment was offered by Tom Garvey, changing the meeting night to the first Thursday in each month. Under the rules it lies over till the next regular meeting. Taken altogether the session was one of the best held this year, and gives its officers and members great encouragement.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Well Known Young Author to Speak on Motto of Order.

An unusually large and interesting meeting of Trinity Council, Y. M. I., was held Monday night. President Cooney presided and obligated William Niles, who was recently elected. Various committees reported the work they were doing, but all were pained to learn of the continued illness of Henry Huikamp and John Cribbins. Resolutions on the death of the sister of John Klementz were adopted, and upon motion June 14 was designated as Y. M. I. night at the lawn fete to be given at the residence of Mrs. John J. Sullivan for St. Aloysius church.

The Literary Committee announced that Charles Weissenberg, the author of several poems that have attracted much attention, had consented to deliver an address on June 27 on the motto of the order, "Pro Deo, Pro Patria."

Mr. Weissenberg is not only a good speaker but a deep thinker, therefore a literary treat may be expected.

CONSULT WITH BISHOP.

Rev. John B. Kelly, the beloved rector of Holy Trinity church, New Albany, spent several days in Indianapolis this week, attending the regular meeting of the Board of Diocesan Consultors, of which he is a member. The Bishop presided, and the reports from all the parishes were satisfactory to the board.

THE VISIT OF THE KNIGHTS.

The Knights of Columbus have come and gone. They have tasted genuine Kentucky hospitality, and we have no doubt that they have returned to their homes well pleased with the reception they received at the hands of their fellow-Knights and Catholics and people generally of Louisville and Kentucky. The members of Louisville council did themselves proud in entertaining the visitors. They made them feel at home and made each one go away regretting that his stay was not longer. The delegates who attended the council here were a fine body of men, equal to any society which ever assembled in Louisville on a similar mission. The delegation was made up of men of affairs, of fine appearance, but modest withal. They attended to their business promptly and left a good impression everywhere. The visit of the Knights to Louisville will make a good impression on non-Catholics and will do other Catholic societies a service indirectly.

The Knights of Columbus is a great organization and has accomplished much already. It will accomplish much more as it grows older, as it works on a high plane and is careful about the class of men it admits into its fold. The ladies who accompanied the delegates, being the wives or relatives of the visitors, were given many handsome receptions and will have no occasion to regret their visit to Kentucky.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRACY.

The Democrats of Kentucky in convention assembled this week in Louisville virtually placed the leadership in the hands of Gov. Beckham. So far as party affairs are concerned, Senator Blackburn was, for the time being at least, relegated to the ranks, or to the rear. Whether he will remain there remains for the future to decide. Blackburn has wonderful recuperative powers, but it looks like the younger element is determined to make Gov. Beckham Senator in his place. Beckham is a clean man and has shown great political capacity for one so young. He has also shown that he is a capable leader.

The platform adopted by the convention is not a strong one. It is weak in that it does not take sides for anybody or anything. It affirms its faith in the principles of Jefferson and Jackson and lands Bryan, all in one paragraph, which amounts to nothing. It recommends a revision of tariff laws without declaring for tariff for revenue only, a Democratic principle. While the majority appeared to be for Judge Parker, the delegates refused to instruct for him for President.

The convention was a large one and made up mostly of young men. Gov. Beckham was selected to head the delegation to the national convention in St. Louis, and the delegates will probably vote for Parker on the first ballot at least.

As to the control of party affairs in Louisville, they were practically placed in the hands of Mayor Charles F. Grainger and William B. Haldeman. The Mayor has shown great ability as a leader in local affairs, and since he has assumed control the party has won at every election.

Mr. Haldeman it is understood is to be the member of the Democratic National Committee for Kentucky, succeeding Urey Woodson. The party organization in the State is a strong one and is likely to be in power for a good while.

It is rumored that the Pope will issue an encyclical letter to Bishops throughout the world stating the motives which induced him to send to the French Government the protest that caused so much disturbance. In the document the Pope will define, it is said, the attitude of the Holy See toward the question of temporal power in Italy, and why he did not receive M. Loubet at the Vatican. Cardinal Del Val is not worried at all over the French situation. He puts his hopes on the fact that even French Catholics have votes, and sooner or later they will cause the defeat of the Ministry. Prelates of the Vatican do not share his hopes, because they say the French Catholics seem to have gone over to the enemy, making the opponents of the church the majority. Prelates in Rome say French Catholics should have done as Belgian Catholics did, viz.: Drive enemies to the church from political office at Brussels.

The head of Oliver Cromwell, the scourge of Ireland, after being above ground for two and one-half centuries, now threatens to become the center of a discussion in England. Cromwell's body was buried at the foot of the gallows at Tyburn after being subjected to many indignities. The head was impaled on a pike and placed on the roof of a house, but was afterward stolen and was exhibited for a time by showmen. The London Truth suggests that the head of Cromwell ought to be reverently buried. No objection will be raised if the head of the Protector is buried in England, and the sooner the better.

The well known Roman correspondent Osservatore writes that owing to the persistent efforts of Roman Catholics to obtain the sanction of the Vatican to vote at political elections, the Pope has asked the opinion of all Italian Bishops by circular. Four-fifths have answered unfavorably, it is said, among them all Cardinals save six, on the ground that Catholics in Italy are as yet unprepared to enter politics. The Pope fears they will be defeated, and prefers they wait till they can hope to win as a party. It was Pius IX. who forbade Italian Catholics to vote.

The French Government contemplates new measures against the church, even after the concordat be annulled. The new scheme is to replace nuns with lay women as relief workers in the prisons for women. At present fully two hundred nuns are employed, but it is asserted that all will be thrown out by July. Female reformatories are also to be similarly changed, it is said, lay women being put in instead of nuns or spiritual visitors, although the change will involve a good deal of expense to the Government.

Col. Reuben Durrett has found out that the pagan Japs were defrauded out of their victory in Manchuria by Russia, aided by France and Germany. Col. Durrett is very much in sympathy with the Japs, he says, but gives no reason for the faith that is in him except that England wants Russia whipped. It is a pity Col. Durrett is too old to join the Japanese army.

Official returns from the recent election of the International Typographical Union have been completed and show that James M. Lynch received a majority of 7,491 votes over Charles T. Howkes. The re-election of Mr. Lynch is gratifying to his friends in Louisville and throughout the country.

To prevent the possibility of obnoxious laws being adopted against the religious orders in Spain Vatican authorities have recently signed a concordat with the Spanish Government, in which it is agreed that all religious orders now in Spain shall be recognized as legal, but that no new orders shall be authorized in the future.

Postmaster Baker is making a splendid record, and the Kentucky Irish American commends him for the zeal and good judgment with which he runs down those who are recreant to the trust imposed in them. Careful that no innocent man shall be placed under suspicion, he has never failed to catch the thief.

The Feast of the Sacred Heart fell this year on June 10 and was duly observed by devout Catholics. Catholic devotion consecrates the month of June to the Sacred Heart of Our Lord, and the observances will be kept up in many of the churches and convents.

The total immigration to the United States for the month of April was 91,368, compared with 126,286 in April, 1903. There was but a slight falling off in the number from Ireland, it being 6,404 for the month.

Michael O'Malia, a respected citizen of the West End, passed peacefully to his eternal reward last Saturday. His funeral took place Tuesday morning from the Cathedral. Rev. Father Conniff celebrating the mass of requiem.

Heartfelt sympathy is felt for Henry Wagner and his wife, who sustained the loss of their little daughter Catherine last Monday. Her funeral took place Thursday afternoon, the interment being in St. Louis cemetery.

The death of Will O'Connell cast a gloom over the neighborhood in which he resided. He was a young man of great promise, but dread pneumonia claimed him for a victim. His funeral took place Tuesday morning from the Dominican church. He was the son of William and Ellen O'Connell, 1305 Seventh street.

The funeral of Thomas J. Genale will take place this morning from St. Martin's church. His numerous friends throughout the city were shocked when they learned of his death Thursday. For his bereaved wife and child there is felt the most sincere sympathy. For several years the deceased conducted a book and wall paper store on Shelby street, and was always an active worker for St. Martin's church.

The funeral of Aloysius Troesch took place from St. Boniface's church Monday morning at 9 o'clock with a requiem mass. The deceased was a native of Alsace, Germany, but had resided in Louisville for the past fifty-one years. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. Clem Ellert, and six grandchildren. He had been a member of St. Boniface's church during his entire time here and was considered one of its most earnest workers. The interment was in St. Michael's cemetery.

Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing son and daughter of Mrs. Mary Doyle, who died last Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 1123 Seventh street. She was the widow of the late John B. Doyle, who died only two weeks ago. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church Tuesday morning with a requiem mass, and a touching sermon delivered by Rev. Father Lawler, who paid glowing tribute to the deceased. The interment was in St. Louis cemetery.

St. Patrick's parish lost a lovely character when Miss Ella May Gavin was called to her reward. Her funeral took place Wednesday morning from St. Patrick's church with solemn requiem mass. Miss Gavin was the daughter of John and Maggie Raggio, 121 Twentieth street, and her death resulted from heart trouble. She suffered her illness with angelic patience. Her gentleness and piety were the edification of a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, whose sympathy goes out sincerely to the bereaved parents and relatives.

In a recent issue we announced the serious illness of Miss Lizzy Hartnett at her home in this city. We are now pained to state that this estimable young lady has been called to her eternal home. Miss Hartnett was the daughter of James and the late Margaret Hartnett. Last fall her health began to break down, and although she received the best medical attention and care she gradually grew worse until last Tuesday, when she passed quietly away, fortified by the rites of the church of which she was an ornament. Miss Hartnett was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., which body visited her home Wednesday evening and offered prayers for the repose of her soul. Besides her aged father she leaves two brothers and four sisters to mourn her loss. Her funeral took place Thursday morning from the Dominican church, which was thronged with sorrowing friends. Rev. Father Lawler was the celebrant of the mass of requiem, and his funeral oration was a feeling one, bringing tears to the eyes of many.

MACKIN OUTING

Thousands Will Accompany Popular West End Society.

With anything like fair weather thousands of people will accompany Mackin Council, Y. M. I., to Fern Grove next Tuesday for a day's outing and pleasure. For two months past Charles Reidy, Frank Adams and an energetic committee of young gentlemen have been working hard for this year's picnic, and everything points to a signal success. Boats will leave in the morning at 8:30 o'clock, and also at 1:30 for those who can get off only for the afternoon. Morebach's band and orchestra will furnish the music on the boats and grounds, and besides the excellent dinner there will be many amusements for young and old. The day will certainly be a pleasant one for all who attend, and now that Mackin is building its new club house, many will go for the purpose of helping the young men of the West End in their laudable undertaking.

The council met Monday night, but outside of the reports of the committees arranging for the excursion there was little business of importance. It was resolved to hold next week's meeting on Monday night, when all are requested to be present. Very soon the election of delegates to the Grand Council will take place, when an exciting contest for the honor is expected. The convention will be held in Lexington.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 1 meets Tuesday evening. There should be a big turnout of members, as they will hear something to their interest.

Division 1 of Duluth is getting to be one of the big bodies in Minnesota, and at the State convention this year will have a large representation.

Division 2 will meet next Friday night. The question of meeting twice a month will be decided, therefore President Ford wants all the members present.

Lively interest is being taken in the arrangements for the field day on July 4 at Springfield, Mass. The Ways and Means Committee of Division 12 report that they have the use of Hampden Park for that day.

Every member of the order should do his part to make the picnic at Phoenix Hill a success. With ten thousand people present the County Board would be enabled to do much that would strengthen each of the four divisions.

State President Keenan received encouraging news from Ashland this week. The division there is making splendid progress, new members being constantly enrolled. The members write that they would appreciate a visit from the State officers.

The recently organized division at Ashland has undertaken the formation of a Ladies' Auxiliary, with every prospect of success. Arrangements are now under way for a great meeting and initiation, when the degree team of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Dayton, Ohio, will exemplify the work.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Rosemount, Minn., feels proud of its growing membership. At the last meeting the first, second and third degrees were conferred on a class of eighteen. The auxiliary has a membership of 100 and will send Miss Margaret Kelly as delegate to the national convention.

Division 1 of Westerly has the proud distinction of being the only one in the State to own its own hall, which is considered at present to be the finest and best equipped hall in Southern Rhode Island. At the last regular meeting, the largest and most enthusiastic ever held by the division, twenty candidates received the degrees, two teams doing the work. Visitors from all parts of the State were present.

The Ladies' Auxiliary instituted by Judge Shlue and the officers of the Covington division has enjoyed a surprising growth. Last week there was another high initiation, when the ladies of the Cincinnati team exemplified the ritual and conferred the degrees on a large class. According to late reports the men there are doing equally as well as the ladies. Judge Shlue has set an example that might well be emulated by good Irishmen in many other cities throughout the State.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians in Virginia have endorsed James J. Creamer, their State Secretary, for the office of National Secretary of the order. A full delegation will go to St. Louis from Virginia. Creamer was at one time National President of the International Association of Machinists. In announcing his candidacy a correspondent says: "Virginia Hibernians realize that something must be done to stir up new life in this order in this State, and it is for this reason they are endeavoring to place their State Secretary in the front. Delegates to St. Louis should help Creamer, as the Southern Hibernians need all the assistance they can get to keep our cause to the front."

CORDIAL WELCOME

Given the Ladies' Auxiliary
by Men of Limerick Division.

Wednesday evening the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians visited Division 4 and were given a hearty welcome. They were headed by their County President, Miss Mary Foley; Miss Mary Cavanaugh, President of the Auxiliary, and Mrs. M. J. Hickey, of the Entertainment Committee, who was present to invite the men from Limerick to their euchre and dance at the Weissinger-Gaulbert building. The ladies were introduced by President Hennessey, and they so enthused the members of Division 4 that a motion to donate a handsome prize was carried without a dissenting vote. An interesting sketch of the history of the auxiliary was given by Miss Ella O'Connell and Miss Mary Cavanaugh, who invited those present to visit them next Wednesday night. Their visit was appreciated and aroused considerable enthusiasm.

The ladies were addressed by Will Mackin, Harry Brady and Gregory O'Rourke still on the sick list. Vice President Tom Lynch stated that the Hibernians might look for a great night on June 20, when the four divisions would picnic with their friends at Phoenix Hill Park. He also stated that Division 4 would have the largest representation, as every man and woman in South Louisville was preparing to be there. An invitation was received to attend the meeting of Division 2 next Friday night, when there would be another big initiation and "something doing." This means a good time for all who accept the hospitality of Ford, Keiran, Keaney, Welsh & Co.

FIRST LAWN FETE.

The first lawn fete and strawberry festival of the season will take place Tuesday and Wednesday, June 14 and 15, at the residence of Mrs. John J. Sullivan, 1405 Rubel avenue, the proceeds to be devoted to St. Aloysius' church. A pleasant afternoon or evening is assured all who attend. Mrs. Sullivan will be assisted by a number of well known ladies, among them Mesdames F. S. Clark, Rademaker, Wette, Masterson, Galligan, Siebert, Minogue, Winterman, Shadburn, Sheriff and Miss Monahan.

HOME TO STAY.

Joseph H. Lally, for the past year Treasurer for the California Portland Cement Company, resigned his position with that company the first of the month, and returned to Louisville last Saturday, to accept a better and more responsible position in the traffic department of the Louisville & Nashville railroad. Joe has many friends who will be glad to learn of his return home.

RIGHT MAN FOR PLACE.

Patrick Tracy, one of Jeffersonville's most prominent and enterprising citizens, has been made a member of the Clark County Council, succeeding Henry Dilger, who resigned to become City Treasurer of Jeffersonville. Mr. Tracy's business experience and knowledge will make him a valuable member of the Council.

TRINITY'S ANNUAL.

Trinity Council, Y. M. C. I., will give their annual dance at Fountain Perry Park next Thursday evening. The committee in charge has made arrangements to entertain a large crowd, and have also secured Wehrley's orchestra to furnish music for the dancers.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.

The euchre and dance of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., Thursday night was a decided social success. Several hundred participated in the games for the handsome prizes, and then danced until after midnight.

UNCONSCIOUS Was Sylvester Rapier When Found in Mammoth Cave.

Sylvester Rapier, the well known New Haven banker, met with a painful accident Thursday, and for several hours his friends were fearful of the results. Mr. Rapier was one of the party of Knights of Columbus that went from this city to Mammoth Cave. While in the cave he fell down an embankment about thirty feet high, sustaining severe bruises and an ugly cut on the head. When found he was unconscious, but prompt attention was given him by Drs. Casper, Abel and Mulvey, who were with the party. The injured man was brought to this city and taken to St. Joseph's Infirmary, where his wounds were dressed. His friends throughout the State will be rejoiced to learn that he is now resting easy, and it will be but a few days until he is entirely recovered from the shock and bruises received.

EIGHT NAMES Presented For Admission to the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

There was a fine gathering of Irish-Americans at Hibernian Hall Monday night when Division 3 met in regular session, with President Quinn and all the officers present. There has been no let-up to increase the membership of this division. The applications of Thomas Green and John J. Scanlon were received, and the Membership Committee reported favorably on Messrs. Patrick Shea, Hugh Lawler, James Langan, Charles McEvoy, Joseph Hines and James Duffy, who were balloted for and declared elected members.

After reading a communication from the Ladies' Auxiliary, County President Sullivan made a detailed report of the arrangements for the Hibernian union picnic at Phoenix Hill on Monday, June 20. Propositions to increase the initiation fee and reduce the monthly dues were discussed at some length, but final action was deferred. Upon motion it was decided to hold the next meeting on Friday night, June 23, when all the members and candidates are expected to be present. The receipts were large and another large addition was made to the sum now in bank. All members of Division 3 say they are doing good work for the picnic.

The division accepted the invitation to attend the euchre and dance of the Ladies' Auxiliary and also donated a handsome prize.

DANGER HAS PASSED.

Dr. Frank B. Norton, who was thought to have been fatally injured last week in a collision between a street-car and a switch engine at the Southern railway crossing on Twelfth street, was able to be removed Thursday afternoon from St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital to his home, 1214 West Broadway. His friends will be gratified to learn that his speedy recovery is now assured, and it will not be long until he is able to resume his practice.

WORK WELL DONE.

The work of preparing for burial the bodies of the eleven victims of the recent river disaster was entrusted to Undertaker L. D. Bax by the Monongahela Coal Company. As the bodies were recovered they were placed in zinc lined caskets and sent to their various homes. It is gratifying to Mr. Bax's friends to know that he did his work so well that there has not been a single complaint.

BETTER OFFICE.

Dr. A. R. Bizot has removed his office from Twelfth street to Seventh and Walnut, where he is pleasantly situated and more accessible to his numerous patients. Dr. Bizot is now one of the regular staff of physicians at the University Hospital, and will be remembered as one of the most successful young practitioners at St. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital.

LOUISIANA'S FEDERATION.

That the annual convention of the Federation of Catholic Societies of Louisiana, which is to meet in New Orleans next Tuesday, will be a perfect success is indicated, says Father Prim in the Morning Star, by the high standing of the eighty-two delegates whose credentials were in the hands of President Meville one week in advance of the meeting.

IRISH IN PARIS

Hibernians of Bourbon County Are Adding to Their Number.Malachi Flanagan, the popular Treasurer of Division 1, A. O. H., of Paris, was a welcome visitor to the office of the Kentucky Irish American last Wednesday, and from him was gleaned much information that will be pleasing to the Hibernians of this city and State. Speaking of the recently organized division at Paris, he said it had enjoyed a steady growth since its organization three months ago, and there was every reason to believe that in the near future its membership would embrace every Catholic Irishman in Bourbon county.County President Edward Grace, Division President Joe Higgins, Vice President Lannan and Secretaries Edwin Dempsey and Harry Lyons have done great work during the past three months, and hope to increase the membership to 150 before the next State convention.
They are all representative men of the city and county, and it goes without saying they will succeed in everything they undertake.This division will always stand ready to assist their beloved saggarth aroon, the Rev. Edward A. Burke, who for the past nine years has ministered to their wants and watched the Catholic interests of that section.Treasurer Flanagan met several of the State and county officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians during his visit, and suggested that they soon pay Paris a visit. We have reason to believe that State President Keenan, Secretary Mc-Ginn and a large delegation from the County Board will soon visit Paris and assist the baby division.

PINK AND WHITE.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of George Renneisen, formerly of this city, but now of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Viola May Keal, which will be solemnized Wednesday morning, June 29, at 9:30 o'clock, with a nuptial
high mass at the Sacred Heart church, Seventeenth and Broadway. Rev. Patrick Walsh will be the celebrant of the mass and will be assisted by Rev. Henry
A. Connolly and Rev. John D. Kalaher.
The church will be decorated in pink and white, and as the wedding party enter the organist will play Lohengrin's wedding march, and as they retire a Mendelssohn march will be played. During the offertory Alf. Metzger will render a violin solo. The bride will wear a white point-lace robe over white satin and chiffon, silk tulle veil caught up with a sunburst
of diamonds, and will carry prayer-book and beads. The bridesmaids will be attired in white point drapery over pink silk, wearing large picture hats and carrying bunches of sweet peas tied with pink chiffon ribbon. They are Misses Mayne Keenan, Louise Frey, Hettie
Eckels and Everedis Specht. Little Miss Marie Newman will be the flower girl and Master Fred Hummel the ring bearer.
The ushers will be Messrs. Dan Gray,
Charles Keal, Leonard Soete, Charles Renneisen, Edward Kelly and Charles Fidler. After the church ceremony there will be a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, 1418 West Chestnut street, after which the happy couple will leave on an extended honeymoon trip, including a visit to Lookout Mountain and the World's Fair, returning July 9. The bride is the daughter of Joseph Keal, of Mayer, Mitchell & Co., and is popular with all who know her. Mr.
Renneisen is connected with the Birmingham Machine and Foundry Company, and is a young man of great promise.The Monon route from Louisville to Chicago has been selected as the official route for delegates, alternates and visitors to the Republican national convention, and a cordial invitation is extended by the Louisville delegation to those who go to join them and share their arrangements on the Monon route 8:21 p. m.
train Sunday, June 19, at Louisville Union station. The fare will be $8.25 for the round trip, sleeping car berth, if wanted, $2. Tickets should be purchased from starting point, as similar reduction will be made by Kentucky lines, but be sure your ticket reads via Louisville and Monon routes. Rates may be had also from June 18 to 20, return limit June 20.
Address E. H. Bacon, D. P. A., Monon route, Louisville, for berth reservations on official train or for other information.

OFFICIAL ROUTE.

The summer negligence belongs emphatically to the province of the home dressmaker. Of course there are exquisite models offered in the shops, and if money is not a consideration, it will be easier to choose one's boudoir robe ready made.

JOCKEY CLUB PARK.

The first week of evening concerts at the Jockey Club Park has given Manager Camp ample proof that Louisville people are glad of the opportunity of visiting this beautiful place, now that the summer season is here. The German Marine Band, engaged for another week here, has attracted great crowds, the music furnished being high class and pleasing to the audiences. Manager Camp need now have little fear but that the music weeks will be the most popular of the season.
With the new improvements the Jockey Club Park exceeds any other within hundreds of miles of Louisville.

IMPORTANT INVENTION

Patrick Delaney's New System
May Revolutionize
Telegraphy.Patrick B. Delaney, of South Orange, N. J., who began his business career in Worcester as a press telegraph operator many years ago, has invented a synchronous-multiplex system of telegraphy which promises to revolutionize telegraphy as it is used in the business world. Delaney is a member of the Franklin Institute and the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and is a former Vice President of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. His inventions have already won the highest honors, having received a gold medal of the Inventors' Exhibition, London, in 1885;
two gold medals and the John Scott legacy medal from the Franklin Institute and the gold medal at the Pan-American Exposition. Pending the issue of foreign patents, Delaney's invention may not be described in full, but its leading features are thus outlined by himself: "Instead of sending the messages by the Morse key directly into the line they are first composed on a tape by perforations representing the Morse characters. This tape is passed through a machine transmitter, which by automatic action sends the characters over a single wire at a rate equal to its full carrying capacity. With one wire between New York and Philadelphia fifty or more persons in charge of machines may be employed in putting messages on tape, while fifty or more persons at the other end of the line receive the messages in the Morse characters and transcribe them."

SACRED HEART.

June is the month of the Sacred Heart.
If we could bring home to ourselves a knowledge of the burning love the Sacred Heart feels for each individual we would be forced to a manifestation of our love in return. The coldness with which we receive the love of the Sacred Heart would disappear if we tried to understand that love. Everything that we have, everything that we may hope for, is a free gift of that Sacred Heart. All that is asked in return is our love. Let us then during this month of June, the month of the Sacred Heart, give a little attention to that burning love with which the Sacred Heart seeks us. If we do but this the love is sure to come. It must come because man is such that he can not return unrequited such a burning love as that which the Sacred Heart has for each individual.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

The closing exercises of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Crescent Hill, will be held Tuesday afternoon, June 21, at 2 o'clock. An interesting programme has been arranged, and the work of the pupils who have been taught by the Ursuline Sisters will be exhibited. The Sacred Heart Academy is one of the best Catholic educational institutions in Kentucky and the exhibit sent from there to the World's Fair will be hard to equal.

PRESS ASSISTANT'S EXCURSION.

The Press Assistants' Union will give their fourth annual moonlight excursion
next Monday evening on the steamer Columbia. The Committee of Arrangements are Charles Smith, Henry Fritsch, Lee Wolf, John Schneider, Charles
Reiss, George H. Ditch and John Mc-Quaid. The press boys are noted for their steadfast support of union principles and deserve the support of their sister unions in the city. The boat will leave the First street dock at 8:15 p. m.
